Dr. Fatih Birol is the Chief Economist and Head of the Economic Analysis Division of the Paris-based International Energy Agency (IEA). He is the organizer and director of the World Energy Outlook series, the IEA's flagship publication, widely recognized as the most authoritative source for forward-looking energy market analysis. The World Energy Outlook 2007, released on November 7, focuses on China and India, the world's fastest growing energy markets. In addition, Dr. Birol will answer questions about Turkey's geo-strategic role in the global energy markets.

A Turkish citizen, Dr. Fatih Birol was born in Ankara in 1958. He earned a BSc degree in power engineering from the Technical University of Istanbul. He received his MSc and PhD in energy economics from the Technical University of Vienna. He worked for six years in the Secretariat of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) in Vienna, before joining the IEA in 1995. He is a regular contributor of articles on international energy analysis and policy and delivers numerous speeches around the world each year. In June 2005, Dr. Birol received the International Association of Energy Economics' Outstanding Contributions to the Profession Award.
